Strength in numbers. Confidence in every move.

OWSA combines the collective volume of leading importers to secure reliable capacity, competitive contract rates, and greater stability across the transpacific trade.

WHY OWSA

60+ Importers. 6 Major Ocean Carriers. 75K FEU Annual Allocation. One Managed Program.

Collective Buying Power - Aggregated importer volume used to negotiate directly with major ocean carriers.

Contract + Capacity - Members move under OWSA-negotiated ocean contracts rather than relying solely on the spot/NVOCC market.

Member Services - Container visibility, market intelligence, and dedicated member support through OWSA membership.

See the Platform in Action

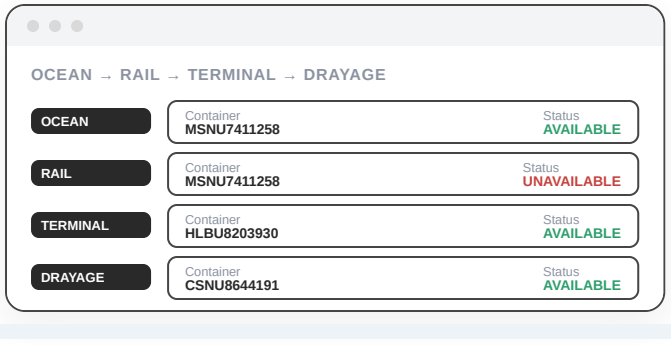

A single dashboard covering every container your membership moves — from booking through final delivery, with the data to prove it's on time and on budget.

OVERVIEW DASHBOARD

Every Container, One Screen

Active holds, demurrage risk, rolled cargo, and split shipments surface automatically as exceptions — so your team works from a prioritized list instead of scanning every container by hand. Upcoming volume by destination gives you a rolling view of what's arriving each week, port by port.

END-TO-END VISIBILITY

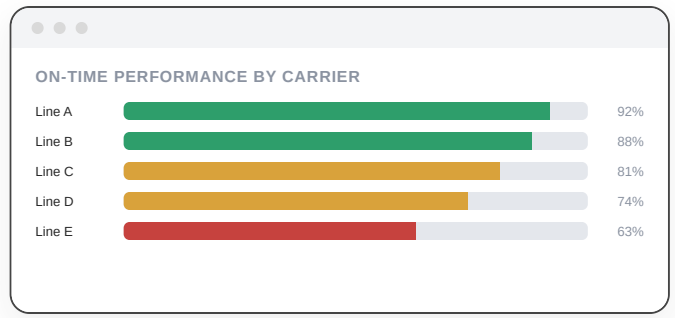

Ocean, Rail, Terminal & Drayage — Unified

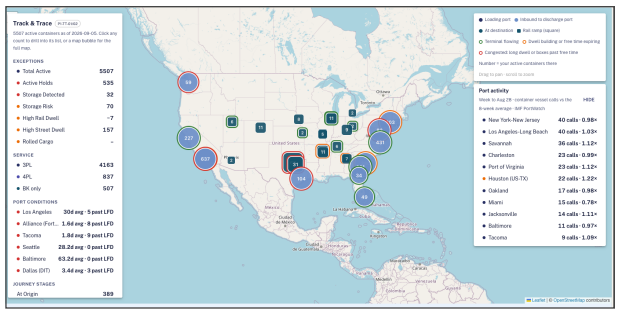

Every leg of the move is tracked on the same record: Last Free Day, appointment status, and availability, updated as the container progresses. No more switching between carrier portals, rail sites, and drayage providers to piece together where a box actually is.

PERFORMANCE BENCHMARKING

Know Which Carriers Actually Perform

On-time performance by steamship line, ranked from best to worst, gives members the data to negotiate contracts and route freight with confidence — not guesswork. Understand trends in carrier and lane performance over time, from executive summaries down to operational detail.

PLANNING & CAPACITY CONFIDENCE

Plan Ahead, Not Behind

Real-time port congestion and terminal dwell trends let your team see delays forming before they hit your containers — so you can plan labor, trucking, and warehouse capacity around what's actually happening at the ports, not last week's average.
